The Georgian Young Lawyers' Association (GYLA) and the International Society for Fair Elections and Democracy (ISFED) publish the 21 May 2008 parliamentary elections' post election period monitoring report.

The Georgian Young Lawyers' Association (GYLA) and the International Society for Fair Elections and Democracy (ISFED) observed post-election process at the Central Elections Commission (CEC) and at 48 election districts throughout Georgia of the May 21 Parliamentary Elections.

The main goal of the project was to conduct a 24 hour monitoring of Election Commissions. Post-Election Day activities of District Election Commissions (DECs), processes of reviewing complaints, deciding on complaints and tabulating district results in DECs were observed.

The conclusion presented by the organization is based not only on the analysis of review process of official complaints filed by GYLA and ISFED, but also the analysis of complaints reviewed by DECs and filed by all electoral subjects and NGOs and the process of adjudicating complaints.
